

Bayesian approaches for vine copula models

Ariane Hanebeck and Claudia Czado
Applied Mathematical Statistics
Technical University of Munich

The Hamiltonian Monte Carlo (HMC) algorithm and its extension, the No-U-Turn-Sampler (NUTS) will shortly be introduced. A Bayesian analysis of vine copula models using the software STAN will be illustrated using a data set with measurements on abalone shells. The work presented is work in progress.